

exasperated the English people as a whole. Perhaps this effect was deliberately designed by the Nationalist leaders, who selected Lynch as a candidate. The natural result would be a revival of the hostile attitude toward Ireland in this country, of harsher measures and more drastic methods, and in a word, to render the home rule question acuter than ever. It has been evident for a long time that the Nationalist members of Parliament are anxious to revive interest in home rule, both in England and America. If the election of Col. Lynch was a victory to that end, some of the effects may prove embarrassing to its promoters.

GROBELAAN'S RUSH.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.
LONDON, Nov. 25.—This morning's dispatches from South Africa show that the recent fighting near Villiersdorp, southwest of Standerton, to which Lord Kitchener reported nothing beyond the fact that Commandant Buys had been captured, after attacking a patrol of 100 railroad pioneers, was really a serious affair.

It seems that Grobelaan's commando succeeded in surrounding and capturing a British patrol of 100 British and Cape Railway pioneers. Subsequently, Col. Rimmington came up with reinforcements, and after heavy fighting, compelled the Boers to retreat and to release their prisoners. The British losses included Maj. Fisher killed and three officers and 20 men killed among the men have not yet been reported.

"BABY MURDER."
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.
LONDON, Nov. 25.—With reference to the story that the British placed Boer women and children in front during the fighting at Grobelaan, when Gen. Dewet's commando was captured—a story which has been spread broadcast as an example of British barbarity—the London Daily Mail has a batch of inquiry to Lord Kitchener, who replied as follows:

"The statement is absolutely untrue and devoid of all foundation. One child was killed and one woman and one child were wounded by the Boers. As the story is so prominent in the recent anti-Chamberlain campaign in Germany, the Daily Mail has telegraphed Lord Kitchener to reply to all the leading German papers."

W. T. Stead, lecturing in London yesterday, said that he thanked God that Germany and Europe were held enough to call baby murder a crime. "Compared with England's conduct," he continued, "it is a crime. Great Britain ought to be beaten in this unjust war. In the American war we employed redskins, just as we have employed the Boers against the Boers, and thank God we were beaten."

FRENCH SYMPATHY.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.
PARIS, Nov. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) The sale on the boulevards, for the benefit of numerous committees established throughout France in aid of the Boers, of a graphically-illustrated history of the Anglo-Boer war, written by the well-known Parisian author, M. Remy, with a stirring preface by Paul Kruger, himself, causes a marked recrudescence of public sympathy for the Transvaal cause.

French military experts consulted express the opinion that the Transvaal war must last at least two years longer, because it has become a war of extermination.

In diplomatic circles the renewed sympathy for the Boers is viewed with academic sympathy, which cannot and any expression in practicable politics.

UNCLE SAM'S INTERIOR.

Secretary Hitchcock's Views Upon It.

Arid-land Question is Vastly Important.

Conservation of Water and Forests—Poor Lo and Pensions—Canal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Information has been received from Rome indicating that the plan to select Mr. Del Val to Washington to succeed Cardinal Martini, as papal delegate, has been revised, and unless there are unexpected developments at the Vatican, the announcement of Del Val's appointment may be expected in the near future. Certain facts in connection with the ecclesiastical and political career of Del Val make the probability of his appointment to the highest interest to the United States at large, and especially to Catholics. Del Val was selected for an important mission last spring, but his appointment was held up temporarily, because it was believed in Rome that it would be injudicious to announce it at that time. Should the selection be confirmed by the Pope, as now seems probable, there will doubtless be vigorous protests from the Vatican, in Catholicism of America, and much discontent.

Del Val is the son of a Spaniard, who for years filled the post of Spanish ambassador at the Vatican. He was born in England, and educated there, which leads many to suppose that he is partly English in his sympathies. This is a mistake, as his mother, like his father, was a blooded Spaniard, and he was educated in England because his father was at that time an iron merchant in that country. Aside from his nationalistic tendencies, Del Val is a man of high ability, physical or otherwise, the discontinue of the issue of rationing to those able to support themselves, and the extension to the latter of every possible aid for their well-being and employment, the inauguration of industrial training in all schools which are now established so that such Indians of both sexes may be taught trades and industries adapted to their circumstances.

The income of the various Indian tribes has been reduced to $3,380,000, a falling-off of $200,000, mostly due to the expiration of treaty obligations. The curriculum of Indian schools, the Secretary says, should be restricted to the common school course, and the further extension of non-reservation schools should be permitted. The future full leasing privileges will be confined to those whose disability or inability actually disqualifies them from working on their own lands, and in a lesser degree to those whose disability prevents their working more than a small part of their land, and who are otherwise able to be required to work at least forty acres of their allotment.

ROLLS OF MEMBERSHIP.
The Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes in the Indian Territory reports that the rolls of membership of only one nation, the Seminoles, so far, have been approved and their lands have not yet been entirely allotted. The time cannot be fixed with certainty when the enrollment of the four remaining tribes will be finished. There is a large amount of work to be done, and the commission, and Secretary Hitchcock recommends that the commission be increased by four members.

FORESTS AND WATER.
The report says that as of June 3, 1897, known as the timber and water act, if not repealed or radically amended, will result ultimately in the complete destruction of the timber on the unappropriated and unreserved public lands of the United States.

The time has arrived, according to the Secretary, when reservoirs must be built and managed as a part of a national system of forest and water conservation. They cannot be successful if maintained, however, without a thorough system of forest protection. The introduction of practical forestry on the forest reserves has now begun. The general policy, as announced by the Secretary, is to build up a system of forest and water conservation, which will be a part of the national system of forest and water conservation.

GALE RAGING ON ATLANTIC.

Damage Done on the New York Coast.

East River Tide Highest Yet Known There.

The Lighthouse Off Blackwell's Island in Midst of a Flood. Wires Downed.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.
NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A heavy northeast gale has been raging along the coast for the past twenty-four hours. The storm set in at sunset last evening, blowing with great severity all night, accompanied by heavy rain. In the upper and lower bay, the storm blew with great fury, and an unusually high tide washed upon the Staten Island shore, doing considerable damage to the railroad tracks between Tompkinsville and Stapleton was obstructed by wreckage from pile-drivers and a small schooner was driven ashore. A heavy sea raged in the upper bay.

Two steamers that arrived during the night remained at anchor off the quarantine station until noon, when the health officers succeeded in boarding them. The French liner, the Leviathan, and the fruit steamer Donald from Jamaica. The only other arrival up to noon was the Malory line steamer San Marcos from Galveston.

The storm did considerable damage in the city. Windows in the upper part of the city were blown in, and a few roofs taken off. The greatest damage was done along West street, fronting the North River, where cellars were flooded. The Rapid Transit tunnel also was flooded in many places. The Western Union Telegraph Company reports having suffered most in the Pocono Mountain district, near Stroudsburg, Pa. Street broke down poles and wires, and some of the Long Island wires were broken. The Postal Company reports heavy damage to its mail cars, and the telephone and telegraph lines were downed in many places.

The wind here blew from thirty-six to forty miles an hour this afternoon. The gale sent shipping scurrying to the harbor, and the harbor was filled with drooping of anchors and the putting off of additional hawsers, many small boats and other craft were damaged or driven ashore.

During the early morning hours, the ferryboats had some trouble, owing to the high wind. The tide rose to a height not remembered by the "oldest inhabitant." Great damage was done to the city, and the harbor was filled with wreckage. The waves covered with white caps dashed about the structure, the platform of the lighthouse being washed away. The lighthouse was damaged, and the water surface. The entire north end of the island was submerged. An unusual number of boats were driven up the beach, and the water surface.

Ex-Senator Davis Makes Report to a Committee of the International American Conference in Favor of It.
BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.
CITY OF MEXICO, Nov. 24.—The report of ex-Senator Henry C. Davis to the Pan-American Railway Committee of the International American Conference, will be submitted to the session of the conference Wednesday afternoon. Davis, who was accompanied by a sub-committee of the conference, adopted his report unanimously. Davis says in his report that there is nothing impracticable or visionary in the construction of a trans-isthmian railway, and that the construction of such a railway is a matter of time, and not of principle. He says that the construction of such a railway is a matter of time, and not of principle.

The proposition was refused, and before others could interfere, McGee drew his revolver and fired, the bullet penetrating McGee's lung.

Records of Loyalists to Be Kept—Constabulary a Valuable Adjunct.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.
MANILA, Nov. 24.—(By Manila Cable.) Capt. Edward P. Lawrence, an American, and an insurgent leader, attacked and captured an insurgent fort on Bohol island, south of Cebu, in the Visayan group. This fort was surrounded on all sides by a precipice, and the only entrance to the fort was a line of entrenchments behind it. Capt. Lawrence sent Sergt. McMahon and twenty men to scale the precipice and attack the fort in the rear. Sergt. McMahon's party accomplished their task after three hours' climbing through the thick undergrowth. They took the enemy by surprise, and drove them from the fort.

The insurgents escaped, they had to pass the remainder of Capt. Lawrence's company at a distance of 100 yards. Here the enemy suffered terrible losses. The insurgents defended themselves with both cannon and rifle. The cannon were captured and the smaller ones removed, while the larger ones were buried. Capt. Lawrence, in his report, makes special mention of the bravery of Sergt. McMahon and his men.

THE SHOW.

ONDE OF THE TIMES.

doors. Mrs. Langtry had a terrible time. She and her company were giving their "Marie Antoinette" play at a theater in Deptford, one of the suburbs in the East End where fog is thickest, and when the star got out for the playhouse she discovered that her cabman would be able to take her only short way out of the city in several miles on foot, and caught a chill resulting in a cold that threatened to lay her up for the rest of the season.

FOGS COME HIGH.

The London death rate during the great fog went up alarmingly, the increased mortality being chiefly among persons suffering from pneumonia and bronchial troubles. The omnibus companies estimate that they lost last day partly because the "buses" were compelled to stop running some of the time and partly because the passengers could not find them or were afraid to ride in them, lest they be carried over parapets, or down into area ways, or right over the side of the street. They have figured out that in extra consumption of gas, in delay of business and in loss of time for the day, the city had to pay at least a quarter of a million dollars a day for its fog. The chances are that the whole affair cost London more than a million dollars, something like a thousand persons met death, who but for the fog would have dodged extinction. They lost only guess at the number of others whose latent ailments were carried on to the general point by the necessity of breathing an atmosphere that was to be had only in chunks. Oddly enough, crimes, except suicide, are considerably fewer than in the past. It is a moot point whether that is a physical effect of the fog, or whether the criminals are too busy trying to breathe and keep warm for anything else. One would suppose that thieves and pickpockets would reap a harvest on such occasions, both ways. On the contrary, it is a dull time for them apparently. The police say the reason is that the fog doesn't dare to operate for fear of getting caught by the wrong man.

AN ANCIENT GRIEVANCE.

London has suffered from this sort of plague ever since the Dark Ages. As far back as 1600 a solemn petition was laid before King Edward VI by 114 members of the House of Commons and Peers, urging the monarch to insist that wood and charcoal only should be used for fuel, pointing out that the "sea coal," which was then coming into general use, "corrupted the air with its stink and smoke to the great hurt and detriment of health." The king consented, making the penalty for disobedience a heavy fine, or, when used at sea, a hard one to enforce, for two years later the houses of wood and coal were burned at the official coronation of Edward II. The actual record of the "fog" in the records of the sixteenth century.

It doesn't appear that the fogs have been increasing in frequency since those days, but they certainly have been getting blacker and blacker, and therefore more and more costly, until at last London proposed to do something about it. One now seems to have a "fog" idea, what it is that is to be done, but the London council has appropriated $1000 in the hope of enabling some one to find out. It has been used at such a rate that it has vanished altogether by bombarding the heavens, and causing a rainfall, which has done little for the atmosphere. At any rate, the fogs could be made a little nicer and whiter, and thus have given London the evil qualities that have given the world's winters a bad name all over the half.

TONS OF CARBON IN THE AIR.

Scientists say that there is enough in the fogs floating about in the London air to kill 100,000 men instantly, if it were to drop down on their heads in the form of coal. The hurried total is almost exactly 3000 tons, in the form of the form of volatile carbon compounds. Any one who takes carbon samples for examination can easily get them in quantity from his evening dress, and the fogs that pass out of the smoky chimneys which London apparently tolerates, can be used at such a rate that it has provided a fine for manufacturing who do not use smoke-consuming appliances, but it is rarely enforced, and the fines are so small that the smoke-consuming appliances would be. Furthermore, the law doesn't even pretend to touch the fogs that come out of all the domestic chimneys. London has sacrificed its grate fires for all the fogs in Christendom, but it may learn in time that the fogs that come out of the grate and that the kind in common use in English houses is a wasteful, smoky, and unhealthy thing. The British Museum as an example of what domestic discomforts were in the Dark Ages.

Once the smoke nuisance is abated London fogs will lose half their present force. The fogs that come out of the chimneys over the metropolis, will give a better chance to see the city once in a while.

WORKING IN THE DARK.

Expected Arrest in Downey Murder Case Not Yet Made—More Officers Now Working on the Mystery.

The first Sunday since the discovery of the triple murder at Downey passed without any important development, and, though the officers are supposed to be on a "hot trail," no arrest was made. That a suspect may be taken within a very short time seems to be the general belief, but if the officers have any evidence tending to warrant such an arrest, they are keeping it to themselves.

There has been no relaxation in the hunt for the murderer (the force of detectives, in fact, having increased each day.) Sheriff Hammel, Constable Brown and some of their associates who have worked assiduously since Tuesday, took advantage of the Sunday quiet to obtain few hours' rest, and relaxation from the strain under which they have been laboring. Disappointment seems, so far, to have followed them in the hunt of the guilty man, but they by no means have abandoned hope of bringing the assassin to justice.

Bert Lewis, son of the murdered woman, went to Downey yesterday morning and is said to be cooperating with the officers in the investigation of every clew which may have a bearing on the case.

Roemer at Downey said yesterday afternoon that no developments of importance had been made during the day.

BAND PUZZLE AT WESTLAKE.

Who Pays for the Free
Sunday Concerts?

Non-union Performers
Make a Hit.

Mysterious Musical Outcome
of Warfare Between Rival Street Car Lines.

The band concert, which for many years has been a big attraction at Westlake Park, and which were formerly given by the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra, have been resumed. Yesterday afternoon
several thousand persons crowded
the cars of the Los Angeles and Traction companies, going to the park,
and listened to the excellent program
furnished by the Metropolitan Band.

The Metropolitan Band, of which
S. R. Darrow is director, and W. L.
Heller, manager, is a non-union organization, having been in existence for over two months. Two weeks ago yesterday the band gave a concert at Central Park, which was enjoyed by a large and enthusiastic crowd. There was an exception to this general rule, however, for a large number of union musicians were there, and the impression they got must have been anything but delightful, for the non-union band, composed of the big crowd
look upon the members of this band and their concert very jealously, and regard their bid for popular favor as an invasion of their sacred rights.

The opinion prevailed that the two performances given by the band were gratuitous, and were for advertising purposes. Mr. Darrow, the director, says that this is an error, and that the band is maintained for the general amusement of the public. He says that he cannot be paid, but it is certain that neither of the railroad companies is responsible. The preceding band at the park was supported by the contributions of both companies, but as considerable rivalry developed in the bid for traffic, the Los Angeles company viewing with much concern its rival's concert, determined to put the concert to the flow of traffic in the Traction Company's cars, and made the first move by abandoning Westlake Park and taking the band over to Central Park. On the surface it would seem that the music was the cause of the discord.

Although it would seem that the performance given at the park yesterday afternoon was a move of the Traction people to the retention of the traffic which they have had, this is denied by W. S. Cook, manager of the company, and also by W. L. Heller, manager of the band. Mr. Heller says that he only did the railway companies not contribute anything for the performance, but that the musicians had to pay their own car fare. He adds that the independent organization
of musicians is not on the aggressive,
and does not desire to put the approval of the Traction Company to the test in a competition. He says that it is quite certain that the reaction from prescriptive methods in music is refreshing, and the enthusiasm evinced at the performance yesterday went far to encourage the new hand in its course and convinced the members that still are to better appreciate than inferiority with a club.
But, although it has been proven that union and non-union are better than solidarity and unionism, the former,
as demonstrated by the Metropolitan Band, has made a beginning which insures victory, the contest is over, for it has thrown a very strong light upon the rivalry existing between the electric railway companies.

NOT TIME EXPECTED.

Residents of Eighth Ward Will Today Tell City Council What They Think of Gas Works Proposition.

It is not so much the regular meeting of the City Council today
it will be because the people of the Eighth Ward will not be there to make for how many will be in attendance can not be predicted, but many of the more active spent most of the day yesterday visiting their neighbors and getting them to promise to go to the Council meeting today.
The reason for this activity is that a large number of property owners are opposed because the Board of Commissioners dared to grant a permit for a gas factory in "de Alt" in the heart of the city. The Board of Commissioners have decided to grant the permit, and the residents of the Eighth Ward are determined to
show their disapproval of the action.
The residents of the Eighth Ward
are determined to show their disapproval of the action. The residents of the Eighth Ward are determined to show their disapproval of the action. The residents of the Eighth Ward are determined to show their disapproval of the action. The residents of the Eighth Ward are determined to show their disapproval of the action. The residents of the Eighth Ward are determined to
show their disapproval of the action.

There has been no end of politics in connection with this gas controversy, and Snyder has been "playing both sides of the middle" and Councilman Todd, always a good political player, has been "all things to all people" so that his constituents will be sure to get the best of the deal.
The Council can do nothing to prevent the gas factory from being built, but it is probable that the Commissioners will simply say that the gas factory has been issued that settles
the business, and thus pass the information of the people of the Eighth Ward up to the Board of Fire Commissioners, that being the easiest way out of the trouble.

SEAL AT THE CHURCHES.

Yesterday was a special day at

by the Catalina Marine Band. The entire program was of the highest quality, and the music was of the most excellent. The band was composed of the finest musicians from the Catalina Islands, and their performance was a great success.

GILKEY REQUITED FOR HURT 'FEELING'S.'

HE WON'T TELL HOW MUCH ASSUAGEMENT HE GOT.

All He Has to Remark is That His Breath of Promise Suit Against Mrs.
Col. Northam "Has Been Satisfactorily Settled."

About ten minutes' merry chat with that now famous youth, Stanley D. Gilkey, who vainly loved the young woman who became the wife of Col.
Bob Northam, would bring on a conservative chill, so freezing is his dignity.
Added to that, the fact that he acquired waiting on the necktie counter of a clothing store, he was equipped last night with an embrod-ered dressing jacket and a cigar. Before the combination, the Times reporter, led into the night without finding out how much it cost Col. Northam to assuage the feelings of Mr.
Gilkey, who was jilted.

"The case was satisfactorily settled," said Stanley D. Gilkey: "that's all I can say."
After Mr. Gilkey has said that nine times in a four-minute interview, you believe both statements.

It was reported yesterday that Mr.
Gilkey had agreed to drop the breach of promise suit he brought against Mrs. Northam, who, he claimed, had promised to marry him, and then married the colonel, without his (Gilkey's) consent. It was also reported that he received a valuable consideration.

"I came over to find out on what terms the breach-of-promise suit was settled," said the reporter, in a
"how-d'-do" sort of a tone.
Mr. Gilkey gazed pensively at the end of his cigar, which he managed to keep right on by some heroic effort.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.

FOR many years the highland sections of Los Angeles have not received the attention they merit during the last few months the activity has developed in all sections of Boyle Heights, which territory really includes Brooklyn Heights, Euclid Heights, Occidental Heights and "The Flats." Many good homes have been completed during the past few months and changes of ownership in property are frequent. President building operations include a residence for J. P. Goytino at No. 578 Goytino Place; a five-room cottage for Mrs. D. A. Haverman at No. 522 North Chicago street; a handsome cottage on North Broad street, near Roto street, for J. M. King; a dwelling is being built on the Brown property, near the Cornell school. Rev. E. S. Chase, who has built several handsome dwellings on the Heights, has just completed a pretty cottage on North Roto street, near Brooklyn avenue. Work is being pushed ahead rapidly on the $10,000 Methodist church on North Roto street. It is hoped to have it ready for dedication during the coming visit of Bishop Hamilton. J. E. Hyman is investing in a new dwelling at No. 712 Pennsylvania avenue. At No. 234 North Roto street, a $2,000 residence is being built by G. Eckhardt. At No. 145 East First street, a $1,000 cottage. A. D. Rose is building a dwelling, also to cost $1,000, at No. 601 Gillette street, Brooklyn Heights. ANGELENO HEIGHTS.

"A community whose citizens are unanimously working for its interests is bound to secure a substantial growth, and that is the case at present in this locality." Such was the remark of one of Angeleno Heights' best-known citizens last week. Never before were there so many factors favorable for the growth and development of these beautiful highland homesites. The change of the old cable road to an electric line has inspired many new plans for progress and the practical certainty of the electric belt line being built, and the work of present improvements on the Santa Monica line are all important factors in the general growth of the Heights. The widening of Bellevue avenue and the new streetcar line on Temple street are also important movements being considered. Probably the greatest activity so far has been in the Santa Monica tract, where many lots have been sold and a number of houses have been built. As soon as work begins on the belt line, Fielding J. Ellison will commence extensive building on the beautiful hill locations in the extensive Ellison tract. M. VERNON.

Vernon can well afford to wear a smile of content at the good things that are pouring in upon her, and the end is not yet. Last week in this department several important movements, in the way of subdivisions to be developed, were reported. It now transpires that at least two other choice sections will be opened up for settlement. Riley Greer of Victory man street, who has operated extensively in South Los Angeles realty, has secured the thirty-two-acre tract lying just south of the Pacific Electric Works, and fronting on Central avenue, and will open it up in approved style. R. Smith, who owns the acre tract on the east side of Central avenue, from East Fifth street south to the Santa Monica tract, and will subdivide it. There are also rumors of other subdivisions. By taking a trip through the new Los Angeles tract, lying between Central avenue and McKinley street, one might easily imagine the scenes which occurred at the lot sales of the Santa Monica tract. On many lots purchasers are camping in tents, awaiting the erection of their homes, and the work of the builders are developing their own water supply, and tanks, and mounds begin to dot the landscape. Those now having buildings in course of construction in this tract are E. C. Cribb, J. Trowbridge, B. W. Davis and E. C. Cribb. The last of the present week several others will be commenced. The Vernon packing-houses are again developing considerable activity. The last of the walnut crop was cleaned up the past week, making a shipment of about 100,000 pounds. The M. A. THE PROBLEM.

OROTHY in the nursery can calculate the price of Ivory Soap per cake, but it would take a mathematical genius to calculate its true value. For he must take account of time, labor, and materials. He must deduct from the apparent cost the saving in the longer life of the cake, in the longer life of the washed fabric, in the labor required, in the time consumed, in the strength expended, in the results obtained. When all is finished, Ivory is the cheapest soap in the world - it floats.

BECOMING A MOTHER

It is an awful which all women approach with indescribable fear, for nothing compares with the pain and horror of child-birth. The thought of the suffering and danger in store for her, robs the expectant mother of all pleasant anticipations of the coming event, and casts over her a shadow of gloom which cannot be shaken off.

PLAGUE OF ROBBERS SMITES CARPINTERIA.

MANY CRIMES REPORTED IN SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

George Hayford, the Bogus Check Operator, Has Been Reaping a Harvest. Three Brings Suit Against Feri for Alleged Malicious Prosecution.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 24.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] Reports from Carpinteria indicate that the town is being overrun by district and committing depredations. Driven from the cities, they have taken refuge in this unprotected neighborhood. In the absence of the only patrolman of the place, the highway robbery and hold-ups have been committed during the past week, and no clue as to the identity of the miscreants has so far been secured. Two crimes were perpetrated Friday night, and the sheriffs of both Ventura and Santa Barbara counties are at work on the cases. Previous to these, other burglaries not previously reported, were committed, until the people of Carpinteria are thoroughly alarmed. Several business men from that section were in this city yesterday, and declared that measures would at once be taken to put a stop to present conditions. Immediate efforts will be made to employ an officer for the purpose of regularly patrolling the town. Late yesterday afternoon a report was received at police headquarters here that two other burglaries had been committed during the preceding night.

RAYFORD'S BAD CHECKS.

Residing in this city at present is a man calling from New York City, answering to the name of George Hayford, who has been doing some crooked work here. His method is procuring money on checks drawn on E. Clark, president of the Seventh National Bank of New York City. On investigation it has been ascertained that he has no money on deposit with that bank, and his victims here are H. P. Hitchcock, G. F. Frentham, the Press Publishing Company, and Shaw & Hunt. The aggregate of his two months' work reaches into the hundreds of dollars. Mr. Fyle, the accountant and cashier for Shaw & Hunt, having had his suspicions aroused, demanded the return of the money ($40), and it was refunded. Hayford's record before coming here has been looked into, and it has been ascertained that in New York City, where he sold typewriters, he collected money that was reported to be stolen by the police. He was arrested in St. Louis, Mo. Hayford claimed at least one check for $25 on C. E. Clark, and is wanted there for the crime. It is reported that he is in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Hayford is known for similar acts. Since coming to this city he has been residing with his wife, who is dressing in the Elford Hotel, on De la Vina street. Constable Hopkins has a warrant for his arrest.

A YACHT MARRIAGE.

A bit of romance occurred yesterday on the high sea. The parties to the affair were Eugene Sebastian and Laura Green, both of Oxnard. The bride is an accomplished young lady, and the groom is an energetic young man in business. Both are friends of Capt. Merry, owner of the yacht Daisy, now wintering at this port. Through his invitation they came here, and were married several miles out in the channel. This bit of romance grew out of a similar marriage yesterday afternoon, when the bride and groom were aboard the yacht, commanded by the same captain, several years ago, when she obtained from the captain a promise that when her time should come, she should be wedded. Among those in the party were Capt. Merry, the bride and groom, Charles Green, brother of the bride, and his wife, Rev. Frank Forbes, the officiating minister, and Mrs. Forbes, and Messrs. Arthur Greenwell, Henry Brown, W. L. Newton, Edward Ray, Fred Mauley and Allen Mower.

SANTA BARBARA BREVITIES.

Alfonso Flores, a mere youth, was arrested several days ago on a complaint by William Feri, who charged him with having stolen a small amount of money belonging to him. The case was first carried before Justice Smith, and from there was taken up to Judge Day's court. The hearing was to have been held yesterday afternoon, but the plaintiff not being prepared to deposit the cost, on motion of Dist. Atty. Squier, the case was dismissed. Flores, through his father as guardian, brought suit against Feri for damages to the sum of $250 for alleged malicious prosecution.

F. M. Whitney and his daughter, Louise, of this city, have made most remarkable bowling records here. On Friday evening at the bath-house alley Mr. Whitney bowled ten games and his daughter eight. Mr. Whitney's highest score in the ten games was 218, average score 179. Miss Whitney's highest score was 215, average 183. This gives Miss Whitney the distinction of holding the highest ten-pin score of any woman in California.

The second of a series of football games between the Jefferson school and the High School freshmen was played at the polo grounds yesterday afternoon, resulting in a score of 11 to 6 in favor of the former.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Wheaton officiated at the marriage of Emilio Rojas, Montecito, and Miss Marie Beggs of this city. They will make Los Angeles their permanent home.

LANDLORD SHOT AT BY MASKED MAN.

Tragedy Narrowly Averted at Santa Ynez—State Field Trials May Be Held in the Santa Maria Valley in January—Farmers' Institute.

REFUSED TO DISCLOSE HIDING PLACE OF GUEST.

SANTA MARIA, Nov. 24.—[From The Times Resident Correspondent.] A desperate attempt was made a few days ago by an unknown masked man to murder Peter Bonetti, proprietor of a hotel at Santa Ynez, but what the motive for the crime was, or who committed it, is not known to the officers who have since been investigating the case. Bonetti says that about dark a masked man appeared at his place and demanded to know whether one Burns was in the hotel, saying that he wanted to kill him. Burns was in the house, but Bonetti told the stranger that he had not seen him, but had heard that he was in another part of the county. The masked man was not satisfied with his answer, and tried to enter the place to make a search for Burns. Bonetti then stepped forward, when the stranger drew a pistol and fired point blank at the hotel proprietor at close range, but the bullet missed him. The masked man then disappeared. Why he wanted to kill Burns is not known, but Bonetti advances the opinion that the man may have been a relative of Burns's wife, who was not satisfied with the latter's treatment of her.

ANNUAL FIELD TRIALS.

The annual field trials of the Pacific Coast Game Protective Association, which are to be held in the central part of the State this year, will be decided in a few days. H. T. Payne and John P. Schuchman, of Los Angeles, are here representing the association as a committee and have been looking over the fields for the past week. They have expressed themselves as being in favor of holding the trials in this valley in preference over any other place they have yet visited. Monterey will be considered next, and if the grounds do not offer any extraordinary advantages over the fields here, the trials will be held in the Santa Maria Valley. Santa Maria is represented in the association, which fact, together with its central location and fine hunting grounds, gives it an advantage over other towns. The trials take place in January.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A farmers' institute with three interesting sessions was held here Thursday, conducted by Prof. D. T. Fowler and assisted by Mr. Woodworth. Owing to the fact that the many farmers who are interested in the institute are compelled to give their attention to their bean crops, which are being harvested now, the attendance was not as large as had been hoped for. The present here, however, were well repaid for their attendance. Prof. Woodworth's subject was "The Potato Bug." He illustrated the insect's development, its destructive raids and giving advice on how to combat it successfully. A full description of many interesting subjects showed the progress made in the university's agricultural department in the interest of farmers on various subjects, briefly on various subjects. Having been a practical farmer for over twenty years he was able to present the practical as well as the theoretical side of farming, and commanded the closest attention.

SANTA MARIA BREVITIES.

James Allen, who is now serving out a sentence in State prison for embezzlement, has given notice in the Superior Court in San Luis Obispo that he intends to apply for admission to parole, as provided by law. Allen had sold a lot of hay for several parties in this valley, and failed to account for the money. He was sent to San Quentin for three years.

COURT IN SAN LUIS OBISPO.

The regular meeting Thursday evening of the Southern Pacific Railroad, named C. Porter, met with a painful accident at Oceano, in which three fingers of his left hand were crushed so seriously that amputation was necessary. The engine had been standing on a siding, and while Porter was working around the throttle, the lever was pushed backward, setting the engine in motion, catching his hand between the rods and tearing off the first three fingers.

CITIZENS IN THE LOWER END OF THE VALLEY.

The citizens in the lower end of the valley are having much trouble with tramps. The night watchman was assaulted by a gang of ruffians at the Southern Pacific Company's warehouse and was almost overpowered when the Constable of Guadalupe came to his aid. Before the through service on the railroad began, tramps were altogether unknown in this locality.
